INSURRECTION.—The Southern boat bringing the Virginia troops was delayed yesterday afternoon by the strong head wind, and did not arrive at her wharf until in the neighborhood of 4 o'clock. She brought up six companies of soldiers from the first regiment of Virginia volunteers, commanded She brought up six companies of soldiers from the first regiment of Virginia volunteers, commanded by Col. Thos. P. August, en route for Harper's Ferry. On arriving here, however, their commander received a dispatch from Gov. Wise countermanding the order for their presence there. They immediately returned to the steamboat wharf, and a portion of them by way of Maryland avenue and a portion through Pennsylania avenue, making a fine martial appearance. They were—the Richmond Grays, Capt. Elliott, numbering 73 rank and file; the Richmond Blues, Lieut. Tompkins, is rank and file; the Montgomery Guarda, Capt. Moore, 63; the Virginia Rifles, Capt. Miller, 47; the Young Guards, Capt. Rady, 41; and a detachment of the Washington Guards, of Fredericksburg, Va., Capt. Haywood, numbering 19—making a total of 272. The Young Guards, in parading through the avenue, presented a very handsome' appearance; they being composed entirely of young men from 18 to 21 years of age, and handsomely uniformed. The companies all returned homewards on the evening mail boat. The Young Guards had at first proposed spending the night in Washington, and Dounelly, of Maher's Hotel, with whom they stopped on a previous visit to the city, had made preparations to give them a hospitable reception, but they learning that their brother companies had resolved to return to Richmond at once, also reconsidered their purpose, and left for home by the night boat. The Monticello Guards, of Charlottesville, Va., numbering 25, also arrived a short time subsequently, by the way of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad. They also immediately returned on receiving the intelligence of the cessation of hosfilities at Harper's Ferry.

The companies were accompanied by martial musis—fife and drum. They presented a thoroughly soldier-like appearance, and gave our citizens a high opinion of the discipline and military spirit of the Richmond soldiery. They were provided with all the necessary appliances for a campaign.

The Marines who were sent up from this city went also fully provided in this respect, and took with them the heavy blankets requisite for a field with them the heavy blankets requisite for a field campaign.

Mr. A. R. Allen, who went to Harper's Ferry in the same train with the marines, returned this morning. He was present when the engine-house was taken. Ten of the marines bore the heavy ladder with which the door of the engine-house was broken in. The rioters, he says, calculated on assistance from New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Western Virginia. A search was made in the mountains, when they found at Cook's house 1,500 pikes, made in Connecticut, one of which, a formidable weapon, was brought down to this city by Mr. Allen.

The staff is over six feet in length, and the head is about a foot in length, of iron or steel, and ground to a point, the sides of it sharpened. Besides these there were about 900 of Sharp's rifles, a box of revolvers, and a box of swords. None of the troops were brought into the charge except the marines, who did the work, though there were many volunteers there from the counties and towns near.

Gov. Wise arrived there yesterday at noon, with the Alexandria Rifles and the corps from Richmond. The Governor would have hung the insurgents, but they were in the hands of the General Government. Brown appears to be sixty-two or sixty-three years of age, and it a highly General Government. Brown appears to be sixty-two or sixty-three years of age, and is a highly intelligent man. He said if his captors knew his reasons they would not blame him. While he had the citizens prisoners, he did not prevent their wives from talking to them, and bringing them provisions, when food was offered them they would not ent it for fear it was poisoned. The rioters who were killed in the town were hauled away and buried; but those in the river were marks for those who desired to try their fire arms.

It was rumored at Harper's Ferry that the insur-ents would be brought to Washington for trial, inder the high treason law.

Nothing certain has yet been obtained as to the extent of the stay of the United States marines at Harper's Ferry. Sergeant Mundell was to proceed per early than this afternoon to the spot with bedding and other camp equipage for the men, and it was supposed that they would remain in tharge of the government works there for several tive at least it is now thought that Brown and his party dropped down by the canal on Sunday, concealed in a boat, and entered the village (Harper's Ferry)

Although the country between this city and Baltimore was peculiarly accessible to the continual succession of exaggerated and exciting reports, from being on the line of the railroad, yet there was but little sensation, comparatively, in Bladensburg, Beltsville, Laurel, &c.

Some stir was produced at Beltsville by the arrest of two runsway negroes in that vicinity. They had fied from Prince William county, Va., and were making their way to Baltimore. One of them escaped from his captors and took to the woods, covered by the darkness and heavy rain then falling. The other was secured by Mr. John Brown, of Prince George's county.

The negroes along the road, kindly treated by humane masters, were not in the least moved by the flying rumors that circulated in every quarter.

Last night, one of the publishers of the National Era applied at the Central Guardhouse for assistance from the Chief of Police in protecting their office. He asserted that threats had been made to destroy their property, and they had reason to fear that an attack would be made upon it in the course of the night. Lieut. McHenry assured him that a watch would be preserved over the property, though he had no reason bimself to apprehend such an attempt. The Chief of Police arriving, instructed the guards to pay attention in that direction, but there was no indication of any such movement through the night.

The interesting ceremony of formally dedicating the new Masonic Hall, recently erected by the members of Potomae Lodge, came off yesterday afternoon. The members of the Lodge, accompanied by several hundred of the brotherhood form your city, marched in from your city, marched in procession through reveral of the primeipal street of the town, headed by the Knights Templars and a band of music, and presented quit as imposing appearance. The ceremony of dedication was performed by Grand Master Whiting of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia; after which as eloquent and impressive address was delivered by Mr. Mackay, Grand High Priest of the Grand Lodge of the United States. His address was confined chiefly to the moral beauties of the Masonic order, and is apoken of by the members as one of more than ordinary beauty, ability, and appropriateness. Every portion of the building is now occupied—the second story entirely by the Lodge, the south room on the first floor by the Potomac Fire lasar-ance Company and John Marbury, Eq., as a law office, and the north room by Mr. Richard Carter of your city as a dry goods stose. The featernity doubtless never was in so prosperous condition in our city as it is at the present time.

The Juvenile Missionary Meeting at the Prespetiant church, on Sabbath ist, has been the subject of considerable comment among those who were so fortunate as to be present. Though composed of all the Sabbath schools of the town, and members of every Protestant denomination, it entire exemption from everything like sectarianism, the fraternal and Christian feeling that seemed to pervade the entire large assemblage, spoke well for the spirit of harmony that now pervades our community. The addresses, too, were of a character not always heard on such occasions. Rach one seemed to smbody a pure feeling of Christian charity truly commendable to the authors. The Rev. Messrs. Tillinghale and Ryland being unavoidably absent, their places were filled by Revs. Henderson Suter and Thos. N. Conrad.

Many of our streets show marks of mutilation and obstruction which, to say the least of it, is not very commendable to those whose business or duty it is to see to their condition. In many places contractors for buildings and the improvement of the forward of supervision and direction of a liberally-paid Corporation appointee, and upon him, and no one else, the blame should rest.

We advise the readers of the Star to keep a sharp lookout for bogus coins, chiefly imitations of half dollars During the last week or so a large number of them, mostly dated 1859, have been palmed off on unsuspecting persons in business. Their execution, as a general thing, is pretty good, but a person in the habit of handling such coins can easily detect them by the weight, the counterfeits being some fifty to sixty grains lighter than the genuine coin. The general impression among those upon whom they have been palmed, is that they are manufactured either in or contiguous to the District, from the fact that they commence showing the spurious metal by turning dark almost immediately upon being handled.

The excitement which has pervaded our city for the last two days, consequent upon the Harper's Ferry insurrection, has very nearly died away.

Correspondence of The Star. AT. EXAMPRIA, Va., Oct. 17, 1859. The return of the Viginia troops from the seat war has rendered our usually quiet little city quite lively. Last night, the Monticello Guards, quite lively. Last night, the Monticello Guards, Capt. Wertembaker, from Charlottesville, arrived here, under escort of a detachment of the Mount Vernon Guards, and quartered at the City Hotel. They took their departure for home on the 7½ o'clack train this morning. A company from Orange county also arrived here last night, and are new stopping at the Mansion House. They leave by this evening's train. The Richmond companies went home last night by the steamer via Aquis Creek.

The Alexandria Riflemen, who were among the first to respond to the call of the Governor, returned this morning at 7 o'clock, each member bearing as a trophy, one of the murderous spears provided by Brown & Co. for arming his followers. These spears have a blade about a foot in length by two and a half inches in width at the widest part, a wooden shaft or handle is inserted in these, and altogether, they seem admirably adapted for the villainous use they were intended for.
